Our Approach as a School:

All teachers are responsible for every child in their care, including those with special educational needs. We recognise that the barriers to learning for children can be age related and may fluctuate over time.

High quality first teaching and additional interventions are defined through our person-centred planning approach across the school. Our provision management arrangements and processes help us to regularly review and record what we offer all children in our care and what we offer additionally. We make it a priority to discuss aspirations with ALL our learners. This is a whole-school approach and this report will promote how we underpin this practice across our classrooms, pastoral care and wider school environment.

Underpinning ALL our provision in school is the graduated approach cycle of:

Special Educational Needs

Children's SEN are generally thought of in the following four broad areas :

Communication and interaction

Children with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. They may have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication.

Children and young people with an Autism Spectrum Disorder, including Asperger’s Syndrome and Autism, may have difficulties with social interaction, language, communication, social interaction and imagination.

Cognition and learning

Support may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs.

Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.

Social, emotional and mental health

Children may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which show themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties. Other children may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or physical needs

Some children require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities or opportunities available. Many children with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning. Some children with a physical disability (PD) require additional ongoing support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.

(Reference: SEN and Inclusion Policy February 2014)

As of July 2016, we have 88 children receiving some form of SEN Support. Two children have a Statement of SEN which are currently in the process of being transferred to Education, Health and Care plans (EHCP)

Year Group	Number of Pupils at SEN Support	Number of pupils with a Statement or EHCP

We have internal processes for monitoring the quality of provision and assessment of need. These include data analysis, book scrutiny, a regular monitoring cycle, linking with SLT and other middle leaders, observations of support staff delivering interventions, classroom observations and interviews with children receiving support.

Co-producing with children, young people and their parents

Staff development and Qualifications

We are committed to developing the ongoing expertise and interest of our staff.

Please see Local Offer question 6

This year, we have provided additional training in phonics, supporting children with reading difficulties, Numicon Maths. Our Inclusion Managers attended the School Improvement SEN Briefing in March and November. We also have 1 day support from a qualified Phonics Counts teacher and have 6 Beanstalk Reading partners.

Staff deployment

Considerable thought, planning and preparation goes into utilising our support staff to ensure children achieve the best outcomes, this includes developing their independence and preparation for adulthood from the earliest possible age.

Where necessary and appropriate children with High Needs are supported by 1:1 ESAs. Previously funded by the LEA, from April we were required to apply for 'top up funding' from the High Needs Panel to support the continued provision of these roles.

Every class is supported by a TA for the morning. In addition there is a team of Teaching Assistants who deliver intervention, directed and monitored by the IMs. We also have a Graduated Approach to Reading which includes a system of 1:1 Reading partners

Finance

A full list of our external partners who we work with can be found in our contribution to the Local Offer. Extending our school approach, we commission using an outcomes-based approach. This provides a robust system for accountability.

School External Partnerships and Transition Plans

Academic assessment for children and young people with special educational needs is moderated through our cluster of schools and neighbouring partners.

This year, we worked with our feeder partners to welcome 9 children and young people with special educational needs or disabilities and we supported 12 children transition to the next phase in education or employment.

We closely monitor children and young people's destination data.
